DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This is an old tobacco barn, located at the end of a dirt road that goes past the house. This is one of the few remaining, old hewn-timber barns in the area. The vertical siding is weathered pine, and there are several window-like, louvered vents in the side of the building. The large, central barn doors are hung on old hand-wrought hinges.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This seems to have been the Col. William Bowie farm in 1861. At any rate, it was occupied by William Shuler in 1878. One of the oldest tobacco barns remaining in the area.
